

MIDDLETON SOCCER CLUB COACHES RESOURCES

<input type="checkbox"/>	Podcast – Coaching Soccer Weekly with Tom Mura
<input type="checkbox"/>	YouTube – CCSU Blue Devils Head Coach, Shaun Green (coaches youth and college levels)
<input type="checkbox"/>	Books – Soccer IQ by Dan Blank, Athlete-Centred Coaching: Developing Inspired and Inspiring People by Lynn Kidman
<input type="checkbox"/>	Know and understand the Laws of the Game. Visit www.ussoccer.com
<input type="checkbox"/>	View tools and resources at www.positivecoachingalliance.com
<input type="checkbox"/>	View coach education courses at www.nscAA.com
<input type="checkbox"/>	Get the Get aHEAD Safely in Soccer Online Diploma at www.nscAA.com .
<input type="checkbox"/>	Attend all coaches meetings where possible. Ceaselessly study the game and work to improve the craft of coaching. By supporting and volunteering in the soccer atmosphere you expose yourself to learning more about the game.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Observe other games/coaches. Learn how coaches manage situations. Observe how they communicate both verbally and non-verbally and the impact it has on the players and spectators.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Become first-aid and CPR certified. Be prepared to handle first aid situations as well as medical emergencies during all training sessions and games.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Assist other coaches with their teams in summer camps and tournaments. Again observe and learn.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Attend high school soccer games. Learn the skills that young players will need to compete at the higher levels of play. It helps to have the end result in mind when planning player development.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Play it yourself! Sign up for an adult league or just get some adults/kids together on a weekend. Have fun!
<input type="checkbox"/>	Become a referee! By familiarizing yourself about the laws of the game and observing many coaches, parents, and players you will become more aware of ways to handle and manage situations.